and You

KNOW YOUR Why

An ibex is shown climbing a steep, light-colored rock face. The animal is positioned on the left side of the frame, facing left. Its body is angled upwards, and its legs are extended as it ascends. The background shows a clear sky and a distant mountain range.

HINDs Feet Refers to The Back Feet of the “Ibex!”
The HIND Feet Serve (2)
Purposes: For Fast & Swift Movement ... and For “Elevating” - Climbing Up On “High Heights! The Ibex Never Falls Because his HIND Feet Follow in the Exact Footprints of His “Front Feet!”

Wherever the Front Feet “Step” ... The “Hind” Feet of the Ibex are able to “Step” in That Same Print!
